A. RULES FOR REGISTRATION OF PUREBRED DAIRY GOATS

1. The sire and dam of all animals must be registered purebreds of the same breed, with the exception of Purebred LaManchas and Purebred Sables. See rule 10 in this section.
2. The sire of the animal whose registry is applied for must have been owned by the person making application at date of conception OR a service memo signed by the owner of the buck on date of service must be presented with the application. Any member of a buck owner relationship can register kids without a service memorandum. If a Buck Lease Memorandum is on file in the ADGA office the service memo may be signed by the lessee of the buck.
3. Service memos should be issued only after checking tattoos on both animals against registration/recording certificates.
4. The breeder of an animal is the person owning the dam at the time of service and is recognized as the breeder of the kid produced by such service.
5. The dam of the animal whose registry is applied for must have been owned by the person making the application at the time of the animal's birth OR a bill of sale signed by such owner must accompany application. Such ownership must correspond with ADGA records. If the animal is transferred more than once before being registered, a bill of sale for each transfer must be included
6. The term "imported" shall apply only to animals bred outside the Western Hemisphere. Such animals must be declared at point of entry into the United States as to their breeding and ownership. To qualify for registry in the ADGA, they must be accompanied by an official certificate of pedigree from the official registry association of the country from which they are imported.
7. It is strongly recommended that unsound or unworthy animals not be presented for registration. (See Evaluation of Defects.)
8. It is required that all goats presented for registry be tattooed before application is made. The ADGA office will assign a set of unique tattoo letters to members for their exclusive use. (There is no charge for this service.)
9. The breed of each animal shall be clearly marked on the application for registry and the animal must be true to breed type as shown below and must not have a breed specific disqualification as listed in Section XVII. Evaluation of Defects-Disqualifications-Breed Specific.
 - a. Alpines - erect ears
 - b. LaMancha - short ears, either gopher (Maximum 1") or elf (Maximum 2"). BUCKS must have gopher ears.
 - c. Nigerian Dwarf - erect ears
 - d. Nubians - pendulous ears
 - e. Oberhasli - erect ears
 - color must be Chamoisee, (spelling for male is Chamoise) ranging from light to a deep red bay with black facial stripes, muzzle and forehead; black stripes from the base of each ear coming to a point just back of the poll and continuing along the neck and back as a dorsal stripe to the tail; black belly and light gray to black udder; black legs below the knees and hocks; ears black inside and bay outside. (BLACK DOES may be registered, but their registration number shall carry a "B" as a suffix.)
 - f. Saanens - erect ears
 - no other color but white or light cream
 - g. Sable - erect ears
 - any color except solid white or solid light cream
 - h. Toggenburgs - erect ears
 - color must be some shade of fawn or brown with white or light (cream) color markings as facial stripes, outline of ear, below the knees and hocks, and a triangle on each side of tail base in pinbone area. (DOES which are black in color but with above markings may be registered, but their registration number shall carry a "B" as a suffix.)
10. All LaMancha dairy goats born after January 1, 1980, and having three generations of American LaMancha ancestry will be entered into an open Purebred LaMancha herd book.

Sables having three generations of American Sable ancestry or one parent with 3 generations of American Sable ancestry and one parent Purebred Sable will be entered into an open Purebred Sable herd book. An exception to this rule are kids which meet the Sable breed standard and are born of Purebred Saanen parents. In that case the breeder is allowed at the time of registration to choose to register the kid as a Purebred Sable or an experimental.

B. RULES FOR NAMING

1. The animal to be registered must have a name, limited to 30 letters and spaces. In order to avoid duplication, the secretary may change the name by adding to, taking away from or substituting, unless checked for return.
2. The herd name (prefix) of the breeder shall be the first part of the registered name of the goat. The breeder is the registered owner of a doe on the date she is serviced. The herd name (prefix) of a lessee may be used if a doe lease form is on file in the ADGA office at the time of service. If a goat is sold to a new owner during pregnancy, all offspring of that breeding shall have the herd name (prefix) of the breeder of the offspring at the time of service regardless of the ownership of the dam and/or its offspring when the application for registration is made. The herd name (prefix) may be transferred only upon written request of the owner, their heirs, or assigns. See appendix: How to Register a Herd Name.
3. All animals registered by breeders who do not have a registered herd name will have the word "THE" inserted as a herd name.

4. In naming an animal, care must be taken to avoid including another person's herd name as part of your chosen name. Using another breeder's herd name within your animal's name can be considered an infringement upon that person's registered herd name, unless this is agreed to by that breeder. This use of another breeder's registered herd name could result in misrepresentation of your animal's pedigree.

C. GENERAL RULES FOR RECORDATION OF GRADE DAIRY GOATS OR REGISTRATION OF AMERICAN BREEDS

1. Where one parent is a registered animal, the doe offspring may be recorded as 1/2 American of that breed, provided she conforms to that breed standard. If such offspring is then mated to a registered buck of that same breed, the resulting doe offspring may be recorded as 3/4 of that breed, providing she conforms to that breed standard. These 3/4 does when mated to a registered buck of the same breed will produce kids that are 7/8 of that breed and does of this group are eligible for entry into the American section of the register, provided they meet that breed standard.
2. Rules 2 through 11 of the Purebred register shall apply in all cases to the American breed register. The parents of all applicants for American breed registration must be of the same breed, except that one of the parents may be a Purebred and the other parent an American of the same breed. An exception to the above are kids born of Saanen to Saanen breedings which meet the Sable breed standards. In that case the breeder can choose at the time of registration to register the animal as a Sable or an experimental.
3. Purebred or American bucks must be the offspring of parents of the same breed and both parents must be registered in the Purebred or American herd books except for kids born to Saanen to Saanen breedings which meet the Sable breed standards. In that case the breeder can choose at the time of registration to register the animal as a Sable or an experimental.
4. The recordation/experimental programs are intended for the standard sized dairy goat breeds recognized by the American Dairy Goat Association. Recordation applications indicating parentage of a breed(s) other than of the standard size breeds recognized by the American Dairy Goat Association will be rejected.
5. Purebred or American bucks must be the offspring of parents of the same breed and both parents must be registered in the Purebred or American herd books except for kids born of Saanen to Saanen breedings which meet the Sable breed standards. In that case the breeder can choose at the time of registration to register the animal as a Sable or an experimental.
6. A doe of unknown pedigree may be recorded as a Native on Appearance (NOA) if the application is accompanied by a statement signed by an ADGA member, not a member of the applicant's family, that the doe being recorded conforms to a specific breed type. This is a stand alone rule and the above rules do not apply.

*GRADE BUCKS ARE NOT ACCEPTED FOR RECORDATION.

D. TATTOOING

When filling out an application for registry, please state on the application the tattoo exactly as it appears on the animal (do not show tattoo information on the application that has not actually been tattooed on the animal). You must use your assigned herd-identifying tattoo letters on any animal born in your herd. No animal shall be registered by ADGA with the same tattoo within a twenty year period. Alteration of a tattoo to assure uniqueness may be requested by ADGA before a registration number is assigned.

If a person's ADGA membership application is not accompanied by a tattoo application, ADGA will assign a tattoo sequence to the member. The assigned tattoo, if unacceptable, can be changed within 30 days of certification. There is no charge for this service. Your registered tattoo should be used in the right ear, right tail, or center tail. A tattoo utilizing one letter followed by a number or numbers will not be assigned.

One method of individual identification recommended by ADGA for use in the left ear, left tail, or center tail, is to combine a letter designating the year of birth - "K"-2018, "L"-2019, "M"-2020, etc. (letters G, I, O, Q, and U are not used) - with a serial number to designate the order of birth (e.g., first, second, and third kids born into the herd during 2018 would be tattooed "K1", "K2", and "K3").

More information on tattooing and registering can be found in the ADGA Guidebook.
